

Social Stories: Walking in a Line

Drake University OTD Program

Walking in a Line

Today in class, our teacher says it is
recess time.

I like to run when I am outside on the
playground.

And sometimes I like to push and run to recess
and not walk in a line.

But pushing in line
could hurt me or other
people.

I may be excited, but I will sit quietly in my desk until my teacher
calls my name.

When I hear the teacher call my name, I quietly stand up.

And I will walk quietly
to the line.

Remember to stand
quietly in line and keep
our hands to ourselves!

If I can't stand still,
what should I do?

I can take deep breaths
and count to 3...

...or call Ms. Teacher!

I will try to walk in line
and only run when I am
outside on the
playground.

And now I can run
when I am outside on the playground!
