

Interdisciplinary Course Credit

The following procedure is necessary to take up to 6 interdisciplinary hours outside the Law School:

1. The course must be a graduate level or an upper division course offered at Drake University.
2. The course must be materially relevant to the student's educational program and goals.
3. The academic advisor must approve the granting of interdisciplinary credit by signing below.
4. The Associate Dean must approve the granting of interdisciplinary credit by signing below.

Grades from these courses are not counted in the Law School cumulative GPA. If a C+ or better is earned, you will receive credit hours for approved interdisciplinary course(s).
