

Benchmark Institutions

Institution list as published January 20, 2017 in OnCampus
by Kevin Saunders, Director of Institutional Research and Assessment

Direct Competitor	Minimum # of credits	Peer	Minimum # of credits	Aspirant	Minimum # of credits
Creighton University	128 semester credits	Bradley University	124 semester credits	Santa Clara University	175 quarter units
DePaul University	192 quarter hours	Butler University	120-140 semester credits	University of Tulsa	124 semester credits
Loyola University Chicago	120 semester credits	Elon University	132 semester credits	Villanova University	122 semester credits
Marquette University	120 semester credits	Gonzaga University	128 semester credits	Loyola Marymount University	120 semester credits
St. Thomas University	132 semester credits	Valparaiso University	124 semester credits	Texas Christian University	124 semester credits

Note: Loyola Chicago's website stated the "national norm is 120 semester credits".

Loyola Chicago began graduating students with 120 credits as of the Fall 2011 semester

Institution Website review done by Nancy Geiger, March 2017