Drake was mentioned a combined 4,500 times in print, television, and radio during the January 13–January 27 period. Gesine, an on-campus interviewer, provided candidates in Anthropology, History, Cybersecurity, and Theatre insight on what it means to be a Bulldog! We are also entering the second phase of the spring semester, focusing on tuition deposits compared to last year's figures. The next few weeks will be crucial and busy, with taskforces submitting their recommendations. J-Term reports came in, along with exhausted students returning from winter break.

Banner access for the first 3 weeks. Claudia started as the new administrative assistant in the Dean's Office. After the BOT meeting in Denver via California at midnight on MLK Day, I could hardly find my way home. When I returned to Iowa, I realized it would be in Iowa for sure, even when it's negative 1 degree (that's -19 in Celsius!).

February 7-31, 2020

January went by so fast! It was a busy month, with political events on the agenda and our faculty interviewed as experts on TV. Yep, that's our faculty!!

Good time to think about your spring classes. The big debate on campus (the big debate!), J-term classes in session, online and traveling far away, the Board of Trustees approved two new programs at their January meeting: an A&S Master in Applied Behavioral Analysis and a 4+2 program for a Master in Business Administration. Both will start in Fall 2020.
