Meet the New Faculty

The College of Arts & Sciences established the Distinguished Engagement Award to recognize outstanding contributions of Drake faculty and staff to the college community.

Meet the New Faculty

Erin Horst, Assistant Professor of Theatre

Erin Horst is a native of Vinton, Iowa. Before teaching at Drake, she worked as an actor, director, and choreographer for various professional companies around the Midwest. Some of her performance achievements have been recognized with two Kennedy Center Irene Ryan Acting Awards. Horst is no stranger to Mary Page Morgan and Edith H. Cleary Halls, having served as dance captain for both shows. She recently received a master’s degree in musical theatre from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Horst is excited to be a part of the creative process in a completely new way.

Spotlight Fellows

Meet the New Faculty

Spotlight Fellows

Mary McCarthy, department of political science, took part in the Fulbright Foundation/BLADES (Benelux Latin American Development Scholarship) Program, which placed her in the US to share her expertise on transatlantic relations. Public Policy/Science in Policy and Law student Diana Williams, who is a graduate of Drake, recently received a Fulbright grant to research the impact of international students in Ireland and the United States. Williams plans to explore the relationship between the US and Ireland, specifically focusing on the role of international students in promoting cultural exchange and understanding between the two countries.

Student Spotlight

Student Spotlight

Alex Freeman, a Spanish student, spent the past three months putting his Spanish minor to good use by living and working in Santiago, Chile. He worked as an intern for a company’s production of Fun Home. The trip, which included two Kennedy Center Irene Ryan Acting Awards, allowed Alex to immerse himself in the culture of Santiago and experience firsthand the challenges and rewards of working in a multicultural environment.
